

The book cover features a central illustration of two hands, one from the left and one from the right, holding a thin black string. The left hand is positioned lower and appears to be pulling the string upwards. The right hand is higher and holds the string taut. From the top of the string, a white paper airplane with a blue propeller and yellow accents is suspended. To the left of the string, a blue dove is shown in flight. At the top of the string, a white paper dove with a grid pattern on its wings is also shown in flight. The background is a solid light yellow color. The title 'SONHO COM ASAS' is written in a serif font in the upper right. The authors' names, 'Teresa Marques' and 'Fátima Afonso', are written in a cursive font on either side of the hands. The publisher's name, 'Kalandraka', is at the bottom center.
